Tiles and ceramics are one of the exceptional materials used in various industries, with a significant application in the construction industry. This mineral material, composed of a mixture of clay and other natural substances, possesses extraordinary properties that make it one of the top choices for constructing and executing architectural and building structures.

Tiles and ceramics are recognized as beautiful and stylish materials for use in buildings. These materials are excellent choices for covering walls, floors, and ceilings, adding unique beauty and design to buildings. Additionally, the high variety of designs, colors, and sizes of ceramics allows for adaptation to different tastes.

Floor Ceramics

Floor ceramics are one of the best options for flooring homes and commercial spaces. They are categorized based on appearance into matte and glossy, based on their coating into glazed and unglazed, and by material into regular ceramics and porcelain ceramics. The renowned Norceram brand offers a wide variety of floor ceramics, including bedroom floor ceramics, kitchen floor ceramics, living room floor ceramics, bathroom floor ceramics, yard floor ceramics, garden and villa floor ceramics (garden and villa wall ceramics), shop and store floor ceramics, commercial space floor ceramics, café and restaurant floor ceramics, parking floor ceramics, and pool tiles and ceramics, all in an unmatched diversity of designs and colors. Common sizes of floor ceramics in this collection include 60x120, 100x100, and 80x160.

Hallway and Staircase Ceramics

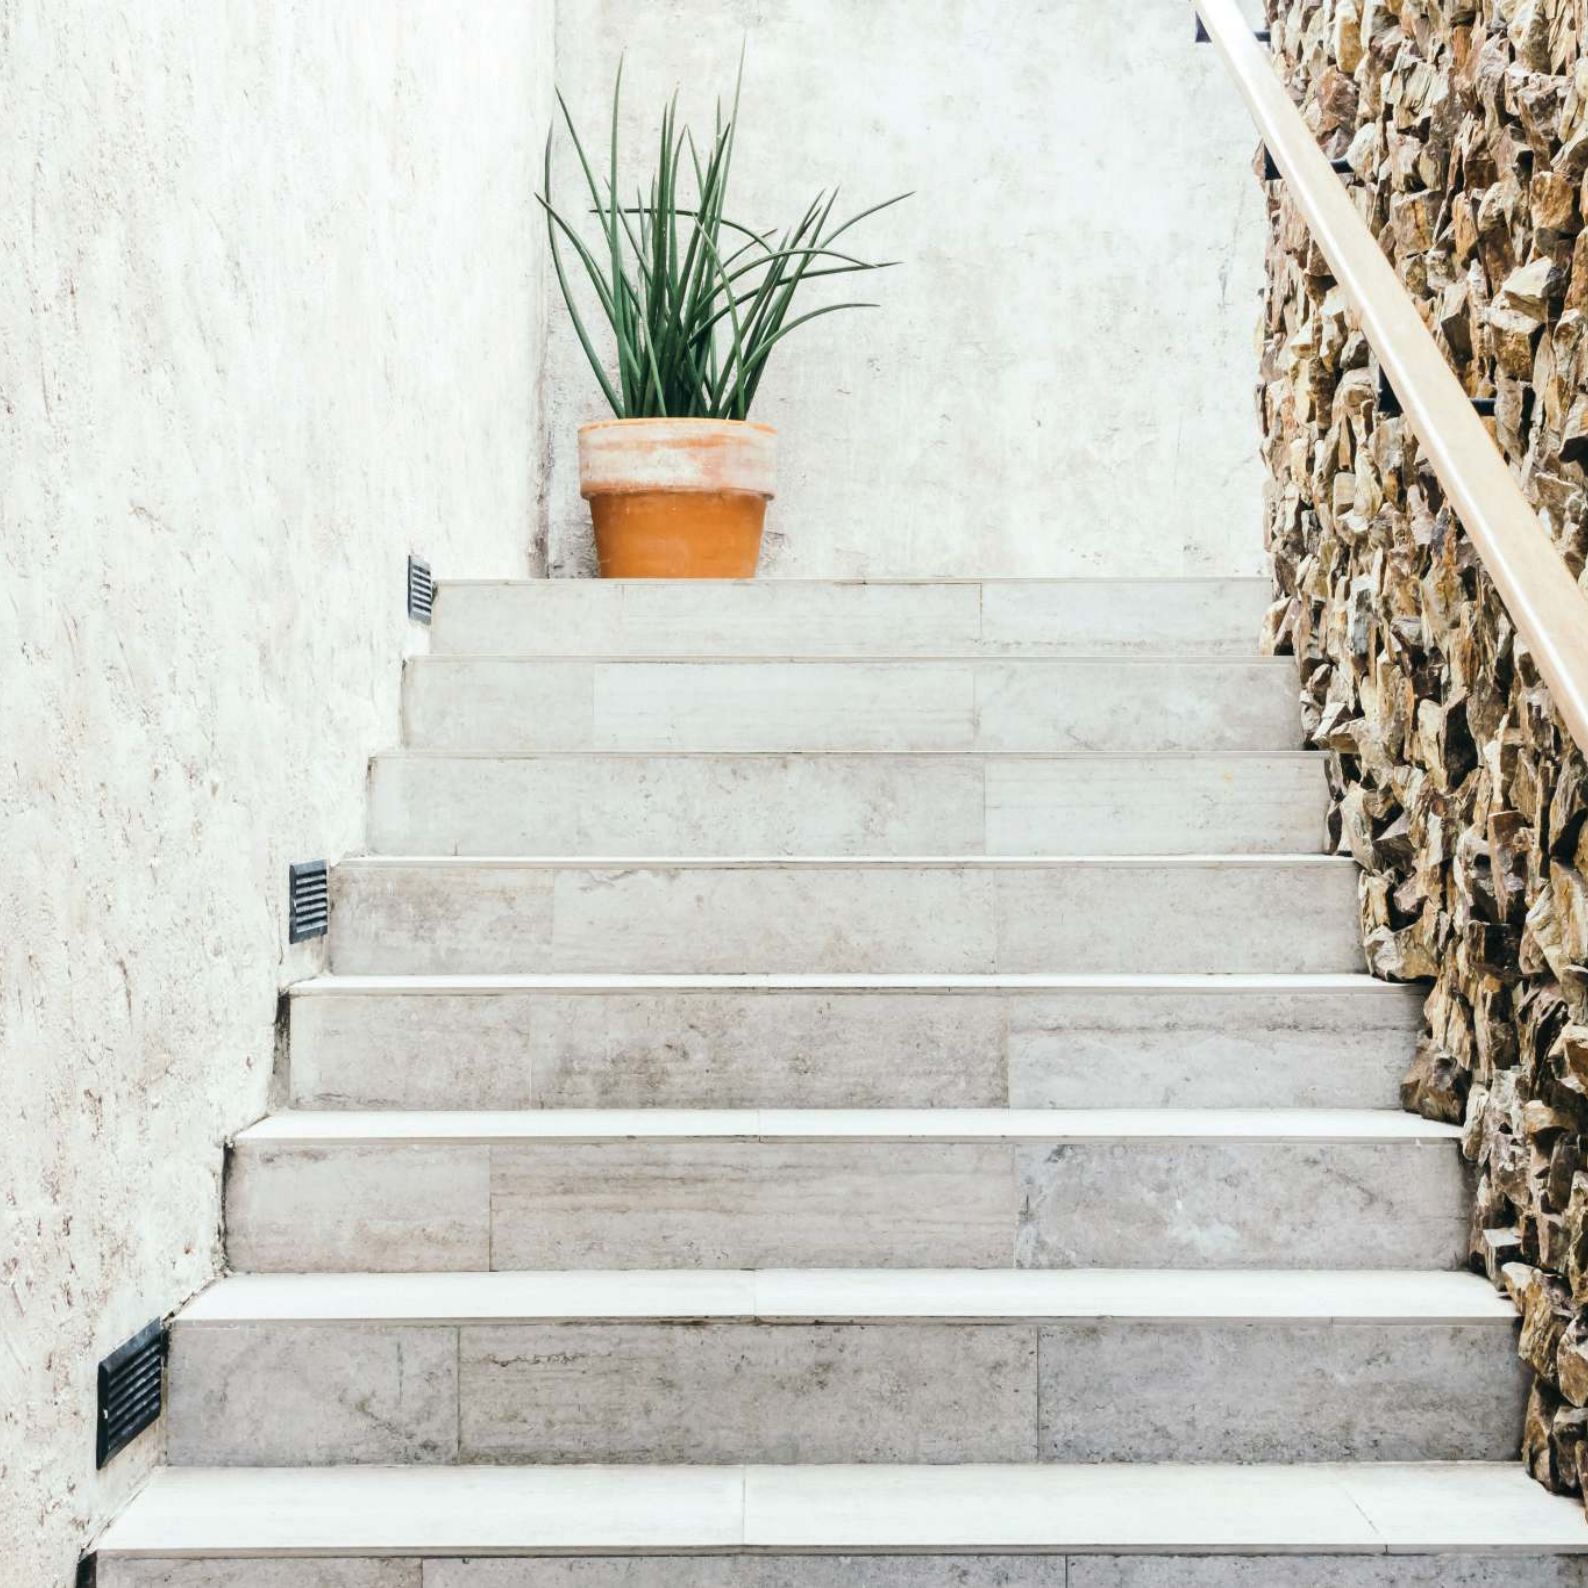

If you are looking for a practical and beautiful option for hallway and staircase floors and walls, Norceram brand ceramics are the best choice. Matte ceramics, due to their resistance to traffic, are ideal for hallway and staircase floors, while polished and glossy ceramics are the best choices for hallway walls due to their increased light reflection, making the space brighter. The well-known Norceram brand offers various ceramics specifically for hallway floors and walls in an unrivaled variety of designs, colors, and sizes tailored to the tastes of dear customers.

Wall Tiles and Ceramics

These products, in an unparalleled variety of designs and colors, are the best choices for wall coverings in your space. These exceptional products have a thin thickness and, in the form of a thin layer, add a special appeal and charm to your interior decor. Norceram offers a variety of wall tiles and ceramics for homes, commercial spaces, hospitals, and kitchen backsplashes in square, rectangular, and diamond shapes in diverse sizes, according to the tastes and needs of esteemed customers.

Building Façade Ceramics

Building façade ceramics are an ideal option for those seeking a high-resistance covering against environmental factors. The variety of designs and types of Norceram brand ceramics allows for selecting a suitable design for any taste. These ceramics come in both simple and porcelain types and are generally designed in patterns resembling stone, wood, parquet, etc., in sizes 60x120, 40x100, and 30x90 cm, and are offered by the diligent Norceram team.

Bathroom Tiles and Ceramics

Tiles and ceramics are among the most important materials in construction, with their design and color significantly impacting the beauty and attractiveness of bathroom and toilet interior design. From classic models to modern designs, with access to a wide range of choices, you will be able to find a desired and unique style for your design.

Tile and Ceramic Installation Tools

Installing tiles and ceramics is one of the critical activities in building construction and interior decoration. To perform this task correctly and professionally, it is essential to use suitable tools. Tile and ceramic installation tools include tile and ceramic adhesives, installation tools, safety equipment, and tile cutting tools. Having the right tools for tile and ceramic installation ensures more accurate and faster work, creating better and longer-lasting results. The experienced Norceram team strives to provide the best and highest quality products by selecting the most outstanding tools because you deserve the best.
